Phantom Beauty

Gaston E. Loubris

21 Wharton Park

Wakefield, Mass.

Dear Glad Friends:

This is my first venture as a cataloguer and it gives me great pleasure to present this list to you.

I am listing a few of the older varieties and a good many of the newer ones. With the exception of Golden Arrow and The Bride, I have grown them all and they have all done well in my field.

The ribbons and cups that I have won with them at the Boston Show in the last five years or more attest to their prize winning possibilities.

I am giving the name of the originator, the date of introduction or availability and also the Size and Color classification number with each variety as I feel this will be of material assistance in selecting varieties for the show table. An explanation of this numbering system as used at the Glad Shows all over the country is given at the back of the catalogue.

COLOR AND SIZE CLASSIFICATION

For those of you not familiar with the N. E. G. S. Variety Classification, which follows the name of each variety listed, the following explanation will be of help.

Each variety has been given a number combining size and color.

The letter F preceding the number defines Formal (or Exhibition) type. Numbers without a letter preceding them are Informal (or Decorative).

The year following each variety designates the year of introduction for U. S. A. and Canadian originations or the date of availability for foreign originations. This will help you to place your varieties in the Recent Introduction Classes in the various shows throughout the country. For the 1947 shows, Recent Introductions are 1944-1947 inclusive.

F denotes: formal type. The first figure denotes size of floret (Giant); the second figure denotes the hue (Salmon) and the third figure denotes the value or depth of color (Deep). An odd third figure would denote a conspicuous marking.

The above Color and Size Classification was instigated and worked out by the N. E. G. S., including the Variety Classification lists, which have been adopted and used in whole or part by every Gladiolus Organization in this country.

The above was unanimously adopted at the N. E. G. S. National Conference in Pittsburg (1944), Detroit (1945), and East Lansing, Michigan in 1946.
